Dear Judge Kollar-Kotelly:

I contact you today to urge you not to settle the government's case against Microsoft.

The United States Government's responsibility to enforce federal antitrust laws against monopolies is vital to protecting the rights of consumers. Our antitrust laws have protected free markets and enhanced consumer welfare in this country for more than a century. The Microsoft case is a clear example of where antitrust enforcement action is necessary to insure vigorous competition in all sectors of today's economy.

Please continue to support free enterprise and consumer rights by maintaining a fair playing field all.

Respectfully,

Pegi Anton
